DEAR SIR,

On November 9th we mailed Vol. I. No. 1 of "The Coin Cabinet, a Magazine for Collectors." We printed 1,000 copies, and thought that we had enough for the initial number, but the little book seemed to make friends from the time it reached the Post Office, insomuch, that there are now none to be had, and we will willingly pay 10c. apiece for clean copies delivered at our office. The next number will appear January 1st, and it is of that and succeeding numbers we wish to speak. If you take one spark of interest in the collecting of coins, etc., it will not fail to please you for it IS, and WILL continue to be, full of good numismatic meat, well cooked, without a dry shred in it. It is not a magazine of the "1st, 2nd or 3rd Ptolemy," nor of the "Middle Ages," it is a Magazine of the Present, and it costs but 50c. a year delivered at your door. It is edited by a couple of Philistines, who will not hesitate to give every one a "square deal," according as they find them "square," and who will also not hesitate to "thrash about" when they find things otherwise. Being not dependent upon any clique or anybody in particular they will view and review anything and everything as did the "man up a tree" with "restful complacency." Now if you like "the picture," sign enclosed slip, enclose 50c. coin or money order, and on New Year's morning "The Coin Cabinet," with its little face as red as the cheeks of a healthy schoolboy, will greet you as you sit down for breakfast.

Very truly yours,

GEOFFREY CHARLTON ADAMS.
